

Belt and Road Initiative

BRI Projects

The projects under the Belt and Road Initiative (BRI) are mainly related to infrastructure development in the transport, energy, mining, IT and communications sector but also cover industrial parks, Special Economic Zones (SEZ), tourism and urban development. Many of the BRI branded projects have already been started before 2013 but gained momentum under the Initiative.

One of the BRI key projects: The Khorgos Gateway in Kazakhstan

Listed and shown below are projects that have a direct or indirect relation to the Belt and Road Initiative. This may include projects, which are financed by BRI funding mechanisms or are officially branded under the Belt and Road Initiative. Sources for the selection of projects are official project websites or project-related documents.

The listed projects are in preparation, under construction, in operation or were initiated under BRI but later have been discontinued. The list has no claim to completeness and is constantly being updated and supplemented.
