ABOUT GWL VOICES

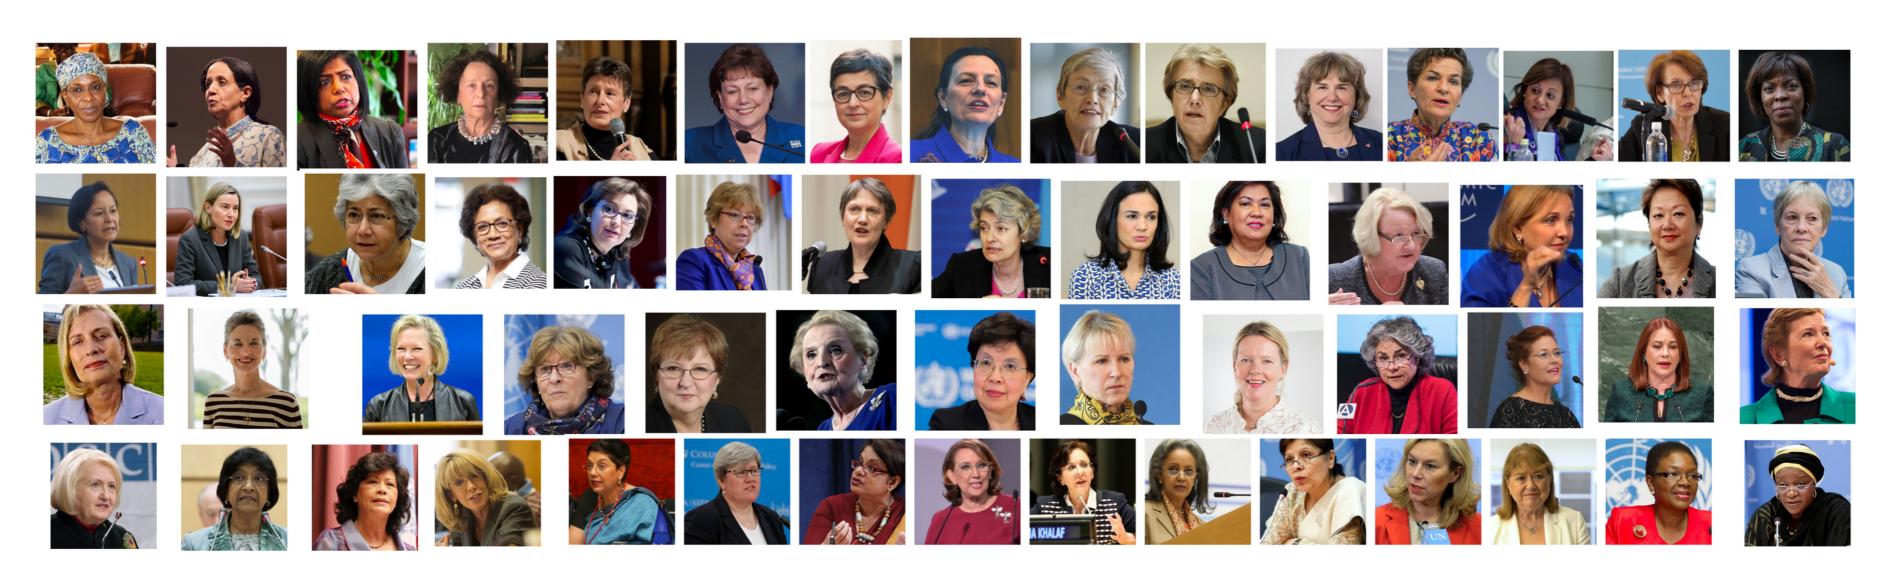

GWL Voices for Change and Inclusion brought together women who, as part of their individual profiles and professional trajectories, have forged significant contributions from the unifying perspective of multilateral agendas for promoting humanitarian relief, advocating for human rights principles and normative policies, advancing sustainable development, and seeking to lend solution to some of the world's most complex conflicts and challenges.

OUR OBJECTIVE

Call attention to and create awareness of the need to achieve full gender equality and empowerment of women across all ambits of society and the critical importance of multilateralism as a vehicle in support of this core objective towards building more inclusive and equitable societies.

WHO WE ARE

HER TURN'S GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

The Her Turn program takes on an outward-looking approach aligned with GWL Voices' mission to enhance and deepen its engagement with the younger generation through public lectures, amplifying knowledge exchange and research, and fostering intergenerational dialogues between GWL members and young students, professionals, and researchers.

In addition, HER TURN will serve as a means to amplify GWL Voices' work with advocacy key stakeholders, with the overarching goal of bridging generational knowledge divides, fostering intergenerational knowledge generation, and elevating the younger generation's voices and impact, as well as exploring new grounds and partnerships advance our work.

HER TURN'S THREE-PILLAR APPROACH

The Her Turn initiative is guided by three pillars centered on GWL Voices' 5 core themes: gender and multilateralism, women and climate justice, women, peace, and security (with a focus on forgotten conflicts), women's economic empowerment, and gender-based violence.

These thematic entry points will feed into the three pillars of Her TURN.

PILLAR ONE - Her Turn Lecture Series

A series of academic lectures featuring the voices of GWL members around gender and multilateralism, women and climate justice, women, peace, and security (forgotten conflicts), women's economic empowerment, and gender-based violence in partnership with a vast network of universities.

Lectures from our members will be recorded and made available to the wider public using public access channels, GWL Voices platforms, and social media.

HER TURN'S THREE-PILLAR APPROACH

PILLAR TWO - GWL Voices' Knowledge Hub on Women and Multilateralism

The Her Turn program will lead the establishment of a knowledge hub focused on women and multilateralism to support research and policy briefs developed by young female scholars around the themes of GWL Voices' work and other thematic areas related to women and international affairs. This will serve purposes: first, as a repository to assist scholars along their academic journeys, second as a source of valuable information and analysis to inform the advocacy work of GWL Voices and third, as a means to foster the exchange of practical knowledge and innovative research among universities and students that are part of the network.

PILLAR THREE - Intergenerational Dialogues

Using multilateralism to drive global action, GWL Voices goes beyond words, focusing on deeds and impact. Through its ongoing Intergenerational dialogues, GWL Voices facilitates the participation of young scholars in conversations with GWL Voices members on issues they care about. This creates a network across universities and schools globally through a series of events that encourage learning and sharing of diverse perspectives. In addition. GWL Voices members are interested in learning about the younger generation's views and sharing their personal and professional experiences to empower and support young scholars as they craft their careers and fulfill their aspirations.

HER TURN - INTERGENERATIONAL DIALOGUES

GWL Voices (Global Women Leaders Voices for Change and Inclusion) is a group of Global Women Leaders raising their voices and joining efforts to achieve gender equality during this generation, using the multilateral system as the vehicle to reach these goals.

As GWL Voices, we go further than words, we act in many ways and we share it with all that want to join and follow our actions for change and inclusivity. Deeds, not words!

To facilitate your participation GWL Voices is creating a network of students from shchools and universities world-wide with which members of GWL Voices are holding a series of events which we call HER TURN: Intergenerational Dialogues.

GWL Voices members are interested in learning about the perspective of the younger generations, as well as to be able to serve as guides and mentors with their personal and professional experiences.

Please feel free to come up with questions that you would like to ask our GWL Voices members during the event. We look forward to starting this dialogue, and hearing your voices.
