

Briefing

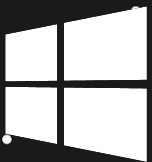

Hello there! General Therarnobees here.

Our base in shouldenear is falling apart, and the only hope of survival for you, my 4 bodyguards, is to dominate the high ground, as a transport ship will arrive in 5 minutes. I assume you are still equipped with the latest beam generator and the standard Proton Grenades.

I also hope that you remember the briefing on the new Newtonian Device - which harnesses the Impulse which surrounds all living beings and uses it to make the user ethereal - As the defensive towers have lost all sense of friend or foe, and will shoot at anything that moves.

As the transport is almost full already, only the bravest warrior may get home, so...

May the Impulse over time be with you.
