

BRAZIL-JAPAN LITIGATION AND SOCIETY SEMINAR 2
Cultural Diversity and Global Challenges

Building on the success of its first edition that took place in Shinshu University, Matsumoto campus, Japan, on January 2018, the 2nd edition of the BRAZIL-JAPAN LITIGATION AND SOCIETY SEMINAR will bring together professors and researchers from opposite sides of the world to discuss the Cultural Diversity and Global Challenges in the Faculty of Law of the University of Sao Paulo, Brazil.

The event is being organized by Shinshu University and University of Sao Paulo as part of a joint research project about litigation in Japan and in Brazil. Our aim is that this second event could offers opportunities for researchers to exchange ideas about the cultural diversity and global challenges and other related topics in a comparative perspective.

Topics for the two-day seminar include recent developments in Alternative Dispute Resolutions, Labor Labor, Social Security Law, Criminal Law, among others.

The Seminar is also intended for postgraduate students of law and young professors dealing with questions of comparative law related to Brazil and Japan in the course of their work.

CALL FOR PAPERS

Interested in speaking at a panel and presenting your research paper at the event?

Paper submissions are invited for the Brazil-Japan Litigation and Society Seminar 2 – Cultural Diversity and Global Challenges, to be held on September 16-17, 2019, at University of Sao Paulo in Sao Paulo city, Sao Paulo State, Brazil. The purpose of the conference is to highlight, develop, and promote the comparative study of Brazilian-Japanese Law.

Conference Subject-Matter and Eligibility: Submissions on any subject in public or private comparative law are welcome. The Committee encourages submissions in all areas of comparative law, and particularly in the areas of labor law, social security law, and ADR, of unpublished or previously published articles, conference papers, research papers and case studies. Interdisciplinary contributions and coauthored papers are also welcomed. Researchers, faculty members, young researchers and other professionals interested in Law are eligible for submissions.

Paper Selection Process: The initial submission should comprise an abstract which describes the proposed paper. Abstracts will be peer reviewed and authors will be notified within 30 days to submit full papers if accepted.

Submission Instructions: The working language of the conference is English and abstracts must be submitted in English. To submit an individual abstract of the paper scholars must email an attachment in Microsoft Word or PDF containing an abstract of no more than 300 words no later than June 1st, 2019, to the following address: yuri.nabeshima@usp.br . The final paper submissions were due August 1st, 2019.

Abstracts must include the author's name, title of the paper, institutional affiliation, position at the institution, and contact information.

Each scholar may submit only one individual paper. Individual and co-authored papers may also be submitted. The Committee will group individual and coauthored papers by subject area and assign them to different panels by relevance. Concurrent panels will be held on the September 16th, 2019.

Organization Committee

Professor Antônio Rodrigues de Freitas Jr. (University of Sao Paulo)

Professor Akiyo Shimamura (Shinshu University)

Professor Shotaro Maruhashi (Shinshu University)

Mr. Bruno Takahashi (University of Sao Paulo)

Ms. Yuri Nabeshima (University of Sao Paulo)